

Our Kindergarten theme for the week is the story 'Oh No, George!'

Communication and Language

We will be learning about story structures, and about fact and fiction books

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

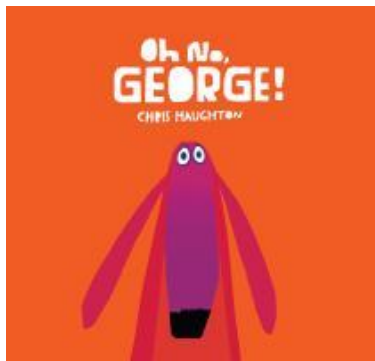

We will be talking how to be a good friend, and talking about making good choices.

Physical Development

The children will be developing their gross and fine motor skills during playdough disco and squiggle while you wiggle sessions.

Literacy

The children will be reading lots of stories and continuing phonics phase 1 activities

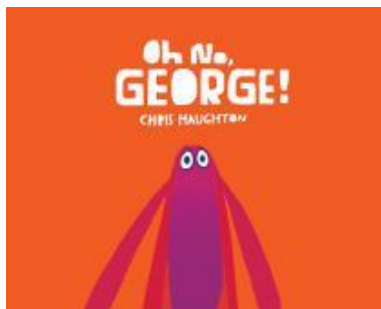

Mathematics

The children will be learning that if we share things between our toys, the total number of objects stays the same

Understanding the World

The children will be talking about pets and how to look after them

Expressive arts and design

The children will be painting pets, and making salt dough cats or dogs
